

Diving is the ultimate escape from reality. Defy the laws of gravity, leave all your worries behind and visit the fantasy underwater world. This is adventure made easy! All you have to do is take a cylinder of air and go for a swim underwater; but it is easier than swimming, it is more like gliding.

Swim among the coral reefs and the multicoloured fishes. Glide among the giant trees of the kelp forests. Explore the wrecks of ancient ships. Slip over the edge of a cliff and study the drop off to the abyss... but that is next week. First you have to find out how to drive your equipment and your own body underwater.

It is your holiday, so you can start the course of your choice any day you wish, except Sunday.

If you have not dived before and are unsure about booking a full course in advance, first try one of the introductory sessions and we will credit you with its cost towards the full course which we know you will decide to follow.

You will learn how to assemble and use the equipment, about buoyancy control (how to regulate your position underwater in the absence of gravity) and how to cope with the unexpected. Practical skills are first taught and practised in a pool or the sheltered corner of a bay, called a "confined water session", and then repeated on a real dive, or "open water session".

In the classroom you will learn about selecting equipment, planning for safe diving, the affect of pressure on your

Many liquid crystal sounders have circuitry built in to indicate fish size by displaying different also known that objects under water within the path of the sound waves will reflect part of

can be measured. The diagram at right is a graphic portrayal of this process.

to the transducer to allow flow of electric current between the transducer and the display unit.

New stress-reliever launched! Mister Fish

Launches new Anglers club and Newsletter

One of the most common maladies in today's fast-moving world is that we never manage to stop and appreciate the really good things in life. For most of our days it's work, study, private lessons, work and more work. Family life itself seems to have to accommodate our hectic lifestyles instead of vice versa. But if that's the way it is today, that's not the way it needs to stay.

Fishing is a pastime enjoyed by thousands of Maltese people from all ages and walks of life. It is normally an individual sport but nothing could be more relaxing and enjoyable than a fishing outing with all the family where every member takes his or her turn at trying to hook one of our scaled friends. Even better, one could join the new Mister Fish angling club and join in on one of the hottest crazes in town at the moment.

Being a member of the Mister Fish angling club offers various advantages including free gifts, discounts on purchases from the Mister Fish Shop in Iklin, various competitions including photo and organised fishing contests as well as a free bi-monthly fun-packed newsletter, the Big Catch by Mister Fish. The newsletter itself will offer exciting moments to all those who receive it, more competitions, a whole list of fishing tips given by very experienced anglers and fishermen, fish recipes and jokes, and a hundred-and-one other fishing related corners.

Another novelty to commence very soon is Fishing Lessons with key technical, theoretical and practical assistance to those who have a vague interest in the hobby but cannot tell a guppy from a hammerhead.

All this in the newest fishing hub on the island... Mister Fish. For more information, why not pop over at Mister Fish in Iklin right behind Gallarija Darmanin, and ask for Josef (the big guy), or Ray (the smaller one), and you can have a nice chat with them over a coffee whilst watching heart-thumping fishing videos in their Guests' Corner.

Sooner than you know it, you will be picking up a rod, getting a pound of bait and experiencing a thrill to remember. Parliamentary Secretary for Sports Dr Jesmond Mugliett has inaugurated all Mister Fish functions.

On presentation of this advert you are entitled for a 50% on the Mr Fish Membership Club

26, Triq il-Muzika, L-Iklin BZN 09, Malta. Tel: 421418

MISTER FISH
Your Fishing Supply House

